

Report Summary – 2003

Project for preserving water and soil on mountainsides

Regarding a project for preserving water and soil on mountainsides, because the details of the project was unclear, and there was a lack of recognition the project should be carried out properly and effectively according to the guidelines, the efforts at completing the project were inadequate, and the created fund was not used effectively. In addition, because the system of decreasing or abolishing the fund according to the quantity of work was not established, the fund was not properly treated when the quantity fell.

(Background amount: 6,069.76 million yen (grants-in-aid awarded to 24 prefectures to create funds))